

Forthcoming events from NANAMIC

Meet your professional development needs for maths and numeracy

The following CPD courses are offered by NANAMIC. These will be run in various locations around the country during the coming academic year.

- Dyslexia and Mathematics. An informative course about teaching mathematics to any level of dyslexic learners.
- Engaging Level 3 learners (A-level standard mathematics). A course focussing on resources and teaching approaches which motivate and engage learners at this level.
- Moving between the levels in functional mathematics. A course which offers suggestions for helping learners to become more functional, and also offers ideas for teaching mixed ability groups.
- Making an impact on GCSE resit students. A course focussing on resources and teaching approaches which motivate and engage learners at this level.
- Engaging and motivating your students in mathematics learning. A course focussing on resources and teaching approaches which motivate and engage learners at any level.
- Beginning to teach functional mathematics. A course for those new to functional mathematics teaching with a focus on effective teaching and resources which help to prepare learners for assessment.
- Developing your skills in the teaching of mathematics and numeracy . A course for those new to teaching any form of mathematics and numeracy.

If you would like to host one of these events or would like to arrange for one to be delivered in-house, designed specifically for your staff, then please contact Lesley Way, NANAMIC Administrator by emailing committee@nanamic.org.uk

The next Annual Conference will take place in Sheffield on Wednesday 4th July 2012. Put the date in your diary now!

For more information on any of the above events please see the website www.nanamic.org.uk