

National Association for Numeracy and Mathematics in Colleges

Details of NANAMIC Committee Members

2018/19

Committee overview

Committee role	Name	Employment	Date elected /	End date
Chair & trustee	John Barton	Retired	Re-elected July 2018	2021
Vice-chair, & committee member	Patrick Wyatt	Askham Bryan College	Elected July 2017	2020
Secretary and trustee	Ranwinder Birring	North Kent College	Elected 2016	2019
Membership secretary, trustee & JMC rep	Sally Barton	London School of Economics (LSE)	Re-elected 2018	2021
Treasurer & trustee	Andrew Davies	Nottingham College	Re-elected 2017	2020
Committee member & trustee	Graham Griffiths	UCL Institute of Education & Learning Unlimited	Re-elected 2016	2019
Trustee	Anne Fieldhouse	Independent consultant	Re-elected 2017	2020
Committee member	Iram Hussain	Independent consultant	Co-opted 2017
Committee member	Mudassar Khurshid	New City College: Tower Hamlets	Co-opted 2017

Short biographies of committee

Chair - John Barton

John has been a teacher for more than 25 years, initially as a primary teacher, before moving into F.E. at Selby College, North Yorkshire in 2001, specializing in Skills for Life. Over the past 9 years, he has trained more than 150 numeracy teachers from across Yorkshire and the Humber and further afield. He has been the Regional Maths Lead for the North West and Yorkshire and the Humber regions based at the University of Huddersfield (HUDCETT). He is now retired.

Vice-chair - Patrick Wyatt

Patrick works for Askham Bryan College in Yorkshire.

Secretary – Anne Fieldhouse

Anne has been a maths teacher for more than 35 years, initially as a secondary teacher, then in FE at Stockport and Macclesfield Colleges. After 4½ years as a regional coordinator with the National Centre for Excellence in the Teaching of Mathematics (NCETM), Anne now works as a freelance maths education consultant including as a teacher educator leading multiple cohorts of the FE Maths Enhancement Project, a little with Manchester Metropolitan University and within the ETF Pipeline Project.

Treasurer – Andrew Davies

Andrew has been teaching Mathematics in the FE sector at Central College Nottingham (under different names) since 2000, having previously taught at Glen Parva Young Offenders Institute and in the Secondary sector. He teaches on courses which range from Entry 3 up to International University Foundation courses and leads on the Diploma for Mathematics Specialists. Andrew is a former member of the outer circle of ACME.

Membership secretary and Joint Mathematical Council representative – Sally Barton

Sally works at LSE as a class teacher on various maths courses. She worked for London Transport and then worked in Africa for 10 years. On her return, in 1988, she completed a teaching qualification and taught in school before moving to Regent 6th form college, Leicester. She has also taught at Sir George Monoux 6th form college and has been involved in university foundation teaching and supporting students to make the transition from college to university. She was the Teaching Officer at Nottingham University for 5 years and worked at Brunel University lecturing study skills to foundation mathematics and computing students and supporting first year undergraduate mathematics students.

Ranwinder Birring

Ranwinder has taught Maths and English in FE for over fifteen years and currently works at North Kent College. She is an accredited NCETM FE Professional Development Lead and a Functional Skills examiner for Pearson.

Graham Griffiths

Graham is currently working part time for the UCL Institute of Education and, with other colleagues, has set up an independent education group called Learning Unlimited Ltd. For 12 years, he worked at City and Islington College and, since 2003, has worked as a teacher trainer for post 16 mathematics and adult numeracy. Graham is a member of the Post 14 Centre for Education and Work at the UCL IOE and the London Mathematics Regional Specialist Lead for the ETF.

Peter Johnstone

Peter worked at Barnsley College where he was the Essential Skills Manager within the Hair and Beauty Department, responsible for the essential skills team and teaching functional maths and ICT at all Levels. He started working in private training providers, first as a teacher then as a manager, dealing with Adult Numeracy, Literacy and IT qualifications.

Mudassar Khurshid

Mudassar has been teaching mathematics in schools and colleges for 22 years and now works for Sir George Monoux College in North London teaching Level 1 through to A level. He is the course leader for GCSE. Mudassar qualified and worked as a Civil Engineer for a number of years on major projects around London before undertaking his PGCE at the London Institute of Education.

Anne Townsend

Anne is an independent consultant who previously worked for Central College Nottingham.

Peter Whitehead

Peter works as a specialist maths teacher at Ealing, Hammersmith and West London College teaching functional skills, GCSE and Level 3 maths and responsible for professional development of the college's cohort of maths teachers. Prior to teaching, Peter spent 25 years as a consulting actuary. Along with his college role, he is an ETF/ NCETM FE Professional Development Lead. His special interests are in mathematics resilience and supporting disadvantaged learners.

NANAMIC Observers 2016-17

Charlene Timewell, The Operation Research (OR) Society

<http://www.theorsociety.com/>

Pauline Odlin, Association of Colleges (AoC)

<https://www.aoc.co.uk/>

Mike Cox, Association of Employment and Learning Providers (AELP)

<http://www.aelp.org.uk/>

Jane Imrie, National Centre for Excellence in the Teaching of Mathematics (NCETM)

<https://www.ncetm.org.uk/>

Kevin Gilmartin, Association of School and College Leaders

<http://www.ascl.org.uk/>

Janice Richards, MEI (Mathematics in Education and Industry)

<http://www.mei.org.uk/>

Sue Southwood, Education and Training Foundation (ETF)

<http://www.et-foundation.co.uk/>

© NANAMIC 2016