Short biographies of committee

Chair - John Barton

John has been a teacher for more than 25 years, initially as a primary teacher, before moving into F.E. at Selby College, North Yorkshire in 2001, specializing in Skills for Life. Over 9 years, he has trained more than 150 numeracy teachers from across Yorkshire and the Humber and further afield. He has been the Regional Maths Lead for the North West and Yorkshire and the Humber regions based at the University of Huddersfield (HUDCETT). He is now retired.

Vice Chair & Treasurer – Andrew Davies

Andrew is currently teaching at Derby College but had previously been teaching Mathematics in the FE sector at Central College Nottingham (under different names) since 2000, having previously taught at Glen Parva Young Offenders Institute and in the Secondary sector. He teaches on courses which range from Entry 3 up to International University Foundation courses and leads on the Diploma for Mathematics Specialists. Andrew is a former member of the outer circle of ACME.

Secretary - Ranwinder Birring

Ranwinder has taught Maths and English in FE for over fifteen years and currently works at North Kent College. She is an accredited NCETM FE Professional Development Lead and a Functional Skills examiner for Pearson.

Membership secretary – Sally Barton

Sally works at LSE as a class teacher on various maths courses. She worked for London Transport and then worked in Africa for 10 years. On her return, in 1988, she completed a teaching qualification and taught in school before moving to Regent 6th form college, Leicester. She has also taught at Sir George Monoux 6th form college and has been involved in university foundation teaching and supporting students to make the transition from college to university. She was the Teaching Officer at Nottingham University for 5 years and worked at Brunel University lecturing study skills to foundation mathematics and computing students and supporting first year undergraduate mathematics students.

Joint Mathematical Council Representative – Graham Griffiths

Graham works for the UCL Institute of Education and, with other colleagues, has set up an independent education group called Learning Unlimited Ltd. For 12 years, he worked at City and Islington College and, since 2003, has worked as a teacher trainer for post 16 mathematics and adult numeracy. Graham is a member of the Post 14 Centre for Education and Work at the UCL IOE and a part of the Editorial Team of the ALM International Journal.

Anne Fieldhouse

Anne has been a maths teacher for more than 35 years, initially as a secondary teacher, then in FE at Stockport and Macclesfield Colleges. After 4½ years as a regional coordinator with the National Centre for Excellence in the Teaching of Mathematics (NCETM), Anne now works as a freelance maths education consultant including as a teacher educator leading multiple cohorts of the FE Maths Enhancement Project, a little with Manchester Metropolitan University and within the ETF Pipeline Project.

Iram Hussain

Iram is an independent consultant.

Mudassar Khurshid

Mudassar has been teaching mathematics in schools and colleges for 22 years and now works for Sir George Monoux College in North London teaching Level 1 through to A level. He is the course leader for GCSE. Mudassar qualified and worked as a Civil Engineer for a number of years on major projects around London before undertaking his PGCE at the London Institute of Education.
